A man who does not take his home paper, but occasionally answers advertisements in a "story paper" has had some interesting experiences, says an exchange. He learned that by sending one dollar to a Yankee he could get a cure for drunkenness. Sure enough he did. It was to "take the pledge and keep it." Later on he sent fifty 2-cent stamps to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out: "Just take hold of the tops and pull." Being young he wished to marry, and sent thirty-four 1-cent stamps to a Chicago firm for information as to how to make an impression. When the answer came it read: "Sit down on a pan of dough." That was a little rough, but he was a patient man, and thought he would yet succeed. The next advertisement he answered read: "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills, fold them, and he would see his money doubled. The next time he sent for twelve useful household articles, and got a package of needles. He was slow to learn, so he sent a dollar to find out "how to get rich"—"work like the devil and never spend a cent." That stopped him, but his brother wrote to learn how to write a letter without pen ink. He was told to use a pencil. He paid five dollars to learn how to live without work, and he was told on a postal card, "to fish for suckers as we do."

A Detroit man who has figured it out claims that had Adam lived and worked 300 days each year from the day he was created to the present time at a salary of $50 a day, he would not have earned by this time as much property as is owned today by any one of several millionaires in this country.

Mrs. George Barnes, of Franklin, swallowed a thorn some seventeen years ago which had given her a great deal of trouble. She had an attack of vomiting a few days ago and was relieved of the thorn. It was a fraction over an inch in length and had one short prong.

One of the statements you run up against from the defenders of private monopoly is that oil is cheaper since the Standard Oil Co. got control of the market than it ever was, and therefore the private monopoly of oil is a benefit to the public. There is no monopoly in the production of cotton, which sold years ago for 25 cents a pound and later sold for 5 cents. How do you reconcile these facts? Improved methods of production, methods that have been thought out by working men, have made the cost of producing oil infinitely less. It is higher today than years ago if you will take the necessary labor or methods of the two periods into consideration. Oil is cheaper in money, but is selling for easily ten times what is paid labor for producing and transporting, nevertheless. Private monopoly prevents the price of oil from falling to two cents per gallon.

The contest in the House between Combs and Harris of Madison county as to who was elected, resulted in a victory for Harris, Republican, who retains his seat.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

BY REV. C. W. CLAY.

The London District Conference will meet with the Clay City M. E. Church South, May 22-24, Bishop H. C. Morrison presiding.

It has been estimated by a great missionary leader that of the 31 millions of church members, only 15 millions were really converted.

Rev. H. C. Morrison, one of the editors of the Louisville Pentecostal Herald has gone to Havana, Cuban company with Rev. Pardo, a Mexican preacher, to open a Pentecostal mission in that city.

Rev. J. D. Lewis, of Wesley Hall, Vanderbilt University, has been accepted and assigned to mission work at Cienfuegos, Cuba, on the self-supporting plan by a mission band of that institution.

Rev. John Mathews, pastor of old McKindree church, Nashville, has purged the church choir, and the revival fires have been rekindled.

At the recent State Y. M. C. A. convention, held in Scott Street M. E. Church, South, Covington, Mr. C. C. Stoll was elected President.

One hundred and three hospitals and 254 dispensaries have been established in India by the Christian missions.

It is estimated that there are one billion of human souls in heathen darkness that have not heard the Gospel, while there are a great number of national heathens even in the christian countries.

In the United States there are some 75,000 preachers or one to every 650 people. In the entire heathen world there are 7,000 missionaries for one to every half million people.

China contains one-fourth of the population of the whole earth, and all the christians in that empire and those in the Japanese empire would not more than make a city the size of Nashville, Tennessee. There are one million a month dying without Christ in this empire. In South America there are fifty millions of people and only 5,000 christians. If this ratio was applied to the United States, there would be just one Christian to each of such cities as St. Louis, Cincinnati and one for Louisville, Newport, Covington and Lexington combined.

It would take 16 years for all of China's heathens to pass by a given point in single file, and 25 years additional for the heathen world. Christian, where would you be if you had to watch until they would pass by? And then to think the people of America spend more in one year for tobacco than the whole church—Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and all other denominations have given in eighteen centuries for the spread of the Gospel.

In India there is one missionary to 500 towns or one million people, yet it is gratifying to learn that there are 1,200 conversions per month in this country, of which in 1773 Andrew Fuller said "there is a gold mine in India." William Carry replied: "I will go down, but remember you must hold the rope."—1898, or 125 years later, there are now ten thousand rescued children in India, more precious than nuggets of gold. Wanted, many more who will help "hold the ropes."

At Level Green, Rockcastle county, a man 56 years old, goes to school and studies as hard as the rest of the scholars.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

This Paper One Year. Farm Journal 5 Years.

We want to get 500 new subscribers to our paper, and are going to do it if we can; we therefore continue our arrangement with the Farm Journal by which we can send the Times and the Farm Journal five years; both for 50 cts. and we make the same offer to all old subscribers who will pay all arrearages and one year in advance.

You know what our paper is and the Farm Journal is a gem—practical, progressive—a clean, honest, useful paper—full of gumption, full of sunshine, with an immense circulation among the best people everywhere. You ought to take it.

T. J. Hamilton, of Irvine, passed here Sunday.

Yesterday was the most spring-like day we have had this year.

J. W. McKinney made a business trip to Levee the first of the week.

Mrs. Nannie Sams has moved from Woodward's creek to her farm near this place.

J. W. Barnett, of Clay City, has a full supply of grass seed and seed oats at the lowest prices.

Misses Fannie Jackson and Minnie Mize gave this office a very pleasant call Wednesday.

W. E. Bryan has moved his family to the house recently vacated by Russell Christopher.

Pete Todd has rented of Wesley Lockman his home place for $100 and has moved to same.

The merchant who lets the people know what he has to sell, will always reap his share of the trade.

There were no services at the Baptist church Saturday and Sunday, there being no minister present.

If you have broom corn, don't forget that you can have same made into brooms by Dave White, the broom maker, Spoutspring, Ky.

Owing to the continued bad weather farmers are greatly behind with their work. As yet, but few days have been suitable for ploughing.

My mother suffered with chronic diarrhoea for several months. She was attended by two physicians who at last pronounced her case helpless. She procured one 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and five doses gave her permanent relief. I take pleasure in recommending it as the best on the market.—Mrs. F. E. Watson, Alken, Ala. Sold by J. W. Dawson & Bro., Druggists.

It seems that Mr. groundhog must know his business after all.

A beautiful verse was penned by "A. E." in memory of little Kinley Tipton, deceased.

If you need any kind of blacksmithing or wood work, don't fail to see W. E. Bryan at this place.

Allen Orshorn was taken dangerously ill Tuesday night, but has about recovered from his severe spell.

Sanford Niblack moved Monday to his farm recently purchased on the Muddy Creek pike in Clark county.

Reuben Tipton has rented the farm of B. S. Burgher, deceased, and has moved into the house with the family.

Several relatives from this place attended the funeral and burial of Bluford Fox, near Winchester Saturday.

This is the year in which the census taker will visit you, and we are now wondering what some of our people will say when the question is asked, "What is your occupation?"

Farmers are very jubilant over the excellent prospects for a good crop year during 1900. Fruits of all kinds are as yet uninjured, and there never was a brighter prospect for a good wheat crop.

Eld. W. F. Clemons arrived yesterday from Estill county, and will make this county his home. During the last four years he has buried his mother, two wives and two children.—Winchester Democrat.

The county roads are simply awful. We don't think we ever saw them in a worse condition or the mud so deep. Hauling over them has suspended except in compulsory instances, and everybody seems to avoid traveling them—horseback or otherwise—as much as possible.

One third of the fools of this country think they can beat the lawyers expounding the law, one half of them think they can beat the doctors healing the sick; two-thirds of them think they can beat the preacher preaching the gospel, and all of them know they can beat the editors running the paper.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain-Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cts. Sold by J. W. The latest parody on "She was Bred in Old Kentucky" is found in an Indiana exchange as follows: "He was bred in Old Kentucky, where they shoot you through and through; where they let the sunshine flicker through your lights and liver too. He was bred in old Kentucky, if you live you're mighty lucky when you are just shot at by a man down in Old Kentucky."

Rev. Sam P. Jones is quoted as saying that the whole trouble in Kentucky is nothing but whisky. "Why," said he, "anybody will fight when he gets Kentucky liquor in him. If a rabbit were to take two drinks of it he would spit in the face of a dog."

The tax levy for Menifee county this year will be about 20 cts. on the one hundred dollars and a poll tax of 20 cents. The county has over $900 surplus from last year's tax collection. The whole county expenses of last year were less than $1,500, which includes the salaries of the county officers.

The meanest character we have heard of is a young man reared in a cabin in the country by a widowed mother. He moved to town, was employed as clerk, learned the ways of a dude, went driving with a young lady, passed the little home in the country, the old mother gazed at him fondly, and the young lady asked: "Who is she, she seems to recognize you?" He replied: "I don't know." Base ingratitude! His tracks should be shoveled out of a decent man's back yard.—Ewing Enquirer.

Richmond Court.
About 1000 cattle on the market. They sold at from 3 to 5 cents according to age and quality. Only about 750 found purchasers. Good feeders were in demand. The mule market was brisk, all offered were disposed of at prices ranging from $60 to $125. Only a few horses were sold. One extra fine gelding, the property of Dr. Perry of White Hall, sold at $250. Others at less prices. Plugs ranged at from $40 upward. The crowd was large and seemed bent on business. Merchants report good sales. Shingle wagons were abundant and nothing but lack of money could keep a man from having a roof over his head.—Richmond Register.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. Bluford Fox Dead.
As was reported in our last issue, Bluford Fox, formerly of this place, was lying at the point of death at his home near Winchester at the time of going to press. His sufferings were great as is always the case with appendicitis. Death relieved him of all these excruciating pains at 2 o'clock Friday morning. He was 25 years old in the month preceding his death. Burial in the Winchester cemetery Saturday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. S. Burgher at the residence before interment. Deceased died in the full triumphs of faith in his Savior, removing all doubts as to his future destiny. All who knew him were his friends, and could not speak too highly of him. There never lived a more obliging or accommodating gentleman than Bluford Fox, and all greatly regret his untimely demise. He leaves a young wife, and son 7 weeks old. He is the only son of J. A. Fox, Esq. J. E. Burgher, Sr., of this place is his grandfather, and he has numerous other relatives in this county.

Every discriminating person will say that The Biggle books advertised in this issue of the Times, contain a greater amount of condensed, common sense, well arranged information than any books they have seen relating to these important branches of farm industry. The price of each is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

While turkey hunting on Pine mountain, near Pineville, Solomon Hendrickson shot his brother Gillis, whom he mistook for a wild turkey.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Mearkle, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro., Druggists.

The Moderate Drinker.

A moderate drinker is not one who becomes so under the influence of intoxicating liquor as to craze his mind or cause him to be staggering all over the highway or to be in the gutter rolling o'er and o'er or wallowing like a dumb brute but it is one who just takes a glass now and then of beer, whisky, wine or some other spirituous drinks and it seems not to have much if any effect on him, but by and by, he is a victim of the deadly foe and is found at the bar at all hours in the day almost, and what time he is not there, he is staggering on the streets and is finally termed a "Drunkard."

All we have to do to answer this question, "Is the moderate drinker safe?" is to think of the wrecks of humanity, of the suicides, of the ignorance, of the destitution, of wives commanding bread, of the men struggling with imaginary serpents produced by this deadly demon, and when you think of the jails, of the asylums, of the prisons and of the scaffolds, I think every person, old and young should say, "The moderate drinker is not safe." Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength, old age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart, bereaves the greatest friend on earth, "Our Mother," extinguishes natural affection, erases conjugal love, blots out filial attachment, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sickness, not health; death, not life. It makes wives widows, children orphans, fathers fiends and all of them beggars and paupers.

Intemperance covers the land with idleness, misery and crime. It fills our jails and demands our asylums. It crowds our penitentiaries and furnishes victims for the gambler, the prop of the highwayman, the element of the burglar; it countenances the liar, respects the thief and esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligation, reverences fraud and honors infamy. It defames benevolence, hates love, scorn virtue and slanders innocence. It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring, helps the husband to massacre his wife, and the child to grind the paricidal ax. It suborns witnesses, nurses perjury, defiles the jury box and stains judicial crime. It degrades the citizen, debases the legislature, dishonors statesmen and disarms the patriot.

It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not happiness. It poisons felicity, kills peace, ruins morals, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honor. But this is not all, it does an act far beyond all these, "It murders the soul." Intemperance is the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy, and the moderate drinker is not safe, and the only safe plan is "Take not the first drink and you won't take the second."—Ewing Enquirer.
